Holland Public Schools

Founded in 1848, Holland Public Schools has earned state and national recognition for excellence in education. Approximately 330 teachers, with an average of 14 years experience each and most possessing master's degrees, offer our diverse student population solid instruction in core curriculum along with a wide spectrum of other programs, including art, music, athletics, theater, forensics, K-12 Spanish, special education, English as a Second Language, and many extra-curricular activities.

Our district strives to provide broad-based opportunities; opportunities for students to grow and learn as well as opportunities for parents, community members, and business partners to get involved. We are a "community" school district in every sense. Everyone is welcome.

Today, Holland Public Schools has one "Class A" North Central Accredited high school, a middle school for grades 6-8, a school for grades K-8, a school for grades 4-5, four schools for grades K-3, and one early childhood center.

Here is a listing of our schools. Check out our district's website. Visit the "About HPS" link (district history), the "School Board" link, and "Superintendent Garcia's" link. These links will give you a glimpse of our district, its leadership, and direction. By visiting our teacher pages and other links on our website, you'll see the range of our programs and the high quality of our instruction. As Superintendent Garcia has frequently pointed out, "there are small miracles occurring in our classrooms every single school day."
